LOOKING BACK

Since the New Britain Red Sox ran out to their positions at Beehive Field for the first time on April 22, 1983 much has changed, both in the Eastern League and at Beehive Field. The Red Sox' opponents in the league that season were the Albany A's, the Buffalo Bisons, the Glens Falls White Sox, the Lynn Pirates, the Nashua Angels, the Reading Phillies and the Waterbury Reds. Of those, only Reading and Albany remain and Albany has of course changed its affiliation to the Yankees (1985). Two teams in fact have new affiliates for the 1991 season; Williamsport, from the Mariners to the Mets, and Harrisburg, from the Pirates to the Expos.

The Red Sox line-up at the beginning of that inaugural season included Tom Bolton, Al Nipper, Marc Sullivan, Kevin Romine, Pat Dodson and Steve Lyons. Future major leaguers Steve Ontiveros, Charlie O'Brien, Kelly Gruber, Joe Charboneau, Daryl Boston, Dale Mohorcic and Eric Davis were among the Sox' competition for the Eastern League title that year. The Sox received a huge boost in August when first round draft pick and College World Series hero Roger Clemens arrived in New Britain. The Rocket went 4-1 for the month and led New Britain to the Eastern League crown. The Sox downed Reading two games to one in the semi-finals and then defeated Lynn three games to one in the finals. Clemens was the winning pitcher in the title game.

In 1984 the NB Sox fell to a sixth place finish in the Eastern League at 64-76. Mitch Johnson led the team in wins with 11. Other notables on the staff included Rob Woodward (9-12, 3.88), Tom Bolton, and Steve Ellsworth. Jeff Ledbetter led the team in home runs with 12, followed by Sam Natille and Todd Benzinger with 10 each.

The NebSox rebounded strongly the following season. Ed Nottle took the managerial reins from Rac Slider and led the team to their best regular season record in their three years in New Britain, 75-64, good for second place. Dana Williams set a new team record with 139 hits, Sam Horn established a new RBI mark with 82, Ellis Burks set a record for at-bats, 476, and Jim Bennett set a club record with 14 HRs. That year the club also had future major league pitchers Jeff Sellers, Steve Ellsworth, John Mitchell and Tom Bolton as well as catcher John Marzano and infielder Rey Quinonez. In the 1985 Eastern League playoffs the Sox downed Waterbury three games to one before falling to Vermont in the finals 3-1. Sam Horn led the way in the playoffs batting .524! Tony Torchia took over as the Sox manager in 1986, a year that saw the club fall to 7th place (65-73) despite getting a record tying 14 homers from Ellis Burks and a team record 18 saves from Hector "Tito" Stewart. Shortstop Jody Reed and pitcher Dana Kiecker were also with New Britain in 1986. Steve Curry led the team in victories with 9.

ABOUT THE OWNER . . . JOE BUZAS

The 1991 season marks Joe Buzas' 35th year as a baseball executive. Joe Buzas has been a Minor League Baseball Executive since he first owned and operated the Allentown, Pennsylvania Red Sox of the Eastern League in 1957. He has owned and operated the Eastern League Red Sox every year since, through York and Reading, Pennsylvania; through Pittsfield, Massachusetts and Pawtucket, Rhode Island; through Bristol, Connecticut and into New Britain beginning in 1983. The 1991 season marks the team's ninth in the Hardware City and Buzas is excited about the changes he sees this season.

"I am excited about the new concession stand and Field Box seats that the City of New Britain has installed in the off-season. The shorter distances to the outfield fences should increase the number of homeruns hit thus adding more excitement for our fans. I have made a commitment to the City of New Britain and our fans with an additional three year contract on our lease and I feel the improvements will make Beehive Field a more enjoyable and better facility.

Joe Buzas' baseball background goes back farther than 1957. Born in Alpha, New Jersey, Buzas starred at Phillipsburg, NJ High School and Bucknell University before signing a professional contract with the Norfolk Tars, a New York Yankees farm club. Buzas climbed the professional ladder, playing on some strong AAA teams with the Newark Bears of the International League and the Seattle Raniers of the Pacific Coast League.

The pinnacle of his playing career occurred in 1945, when he was the starting shortstop on Opening Day with the New York Yankees. A bad shoulder injury early that season cut short Buzas' major league career. Having played winter ball in Puerto Rico, Buzas turned to managing there for 10 years. Among the players that Joe managed in Puerto Rico was Hall of Famer, Roberto Clemente, whom Joe calls the "most colorful player he ever managed".

Through the years, Buzas continues to make his living in baseball, though the trend has changed and owner/operators these days are often successful businessmen from other fields. The new breed of owners move into baseball but can rely on their other business when their baseball climate gets cloudy. You could say that Joe Buzas grew up in baseball and that baseball has grown with him.

But even with all the success Joe has had owning over 60 Minor League teams since 1957, he has not changed. Joe offers the same greeting and hearty laugh to the baseball executives at the Annual Baseball Winter Meetings as he does to the baseball fans here in New Britain. He is a down-to-earth person, fitting for someone who has spent his whole life close to grass and dirt (and sometimes muddy) playing fields. It is a testament to Joe's baseball knowledge and his business sense that he's lasted so long in the game. It's a life he wouldn't trade for any other.

Eastern League Umpire Staff 1991

Two new faces appear on the Eastern League's 1991 umpire roster. Joe Caraco joins the EL from the Florida State League (Class A) and Pete Celestino joins the staff from the Southern League (Class AA). They replace Mark Widlowski who has retired and Cecil Mock who was assigned to the Southern League. The league's twelve man staff is broken into four three men crews. The umpires rotate on a daily basis from calling balls and strikes to working thirdbase and firstbase. Like the players, the umpires are trying to work their way to the major leagues. The umpires are part of the Umpire Development Program that oversees the development of umpires for Major League Baseball.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW BRITAIN, CONNECTICUT

March 14, 1991

Dear Fans of the New Britain Red Sox:

Welcome to Beehive Field and another exciting season of New Britain Red Sox Baseball.

New Britain is very proud to be the home of the Red Sox Double A farm team and to feature this quality brand of baseball as a key component of the City's recreational program. Let's make this year the biggest and the best yet as we support our local team. Thanks to each and every one of you for your interest in the City of New Britain and for your support of the New Britain Red Sox.

We hope this season will be a most successful and enjoyable one.

Sincerely,

Donald J. DeFronzo

A LOOK BACK IN THE EASTERN LEAGUE

FIVE YEARS AGO — 1986

For the third straight season the Vermont Reds stormed through the Eastern League playoffs capturing the Eastern League Championship. Reading finished the season in first place and beat Glens Falls in the first round of the playoffs. The Reds, second place finishers during the regular season, knocked off Pittsfield to move to the finals. Vermont prevailed over the Phillies in a five game final series. Reading's Jim Olander captured the batting crown with a .325 mark. Nashua's Jim Neidlinger was the owner of the league's best ERA at 2.42. Pittsfield's Rafael Palmeiro (12 HR, 95 RBI, .306) was the MVP. Future major leaguers of note that played EL baseball in 1986 were Roberto Kelly and Hal Morris for Albany; Jose Lind, Nashua; Ellis Burks, New Britain; Ricky Jordan, Reading; Rob Dibble, Jeff Treadway, Joe Oliver and Norm Charlton in Vermont and John Farrell and Jay Bell for Waterbury.

A LOOK BACK IN THE EASTERN LEAGUE

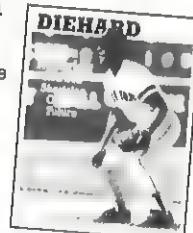

TEN YEARS AGO – 1981

The Bristol Red Sox bested the powerladen Glens Falls White Sox three games to two to capture the 1981 Eastern League championship. Glens Falls' Ron Kittle had an outstanding season. The righthanded hitting slugger won MVP honors with a 40 homer, 103 RBI and .326 performance. The Glens Falls club swatted 179 home runs for the season. Greg Walker (22 homers, 86 RBI, .321), Luis Rios (22 homers), Vince Bienek (21 homers) and Randy Johnson (32 homers) provided additional Glens Falls fire power. Bristol's Ed Jurak (.340) won the batting title and teammate Brian Denman (15-3, 2.44) led the league in ERA. Other future major leaguers of note that played in the Eastern League in 1981 were Julio Franco-Reading, Gary Redus-Waterbury, Gary Pettis-Holyoke and Harold Reynolds and Jim Presley-Lynn.

The logo for Warren Jewelers is displayed in a large, stylized red font. The word "WARREN" is in a bold, blocky font, with the "A" and "R" slightly slanted. Below it, the word "Jewelers" is written in a flowing, cursive script. To the left of the "Jewelers" script is a logo consisting of a stylized "W" and "J" intertwined, with a horizontal line extending from the bottom of the "J" across the page.

GARY ALLENSON TO MANAGE NB SOX IN '91

Gary Allenson, 36, began his professional career in Connecticut with the Bristol Red Sox in 1976. Fifteen years later, having spent seven years in the major leagues as a catcher and the last four years in the minor leagues as a manager, Allenson returns to Connecticut as the manager of the New Britain Red Sox. "Muggsy" succeeds Butch Hobson who was promoted by the Red Sox to Pawtucket. Hobson spent the last two seasons in New Britain, leading the BritSox to the Eastern League Finals in 1990.

Allenson was named Most Valuable Player of the International League in 1978 and joined the Boston Red Sox in 1979. He played all but 14 of his 416 major league games for the Red Sox, where he was groomed for his career as a manager. Allenson said "I had a chance to be a starter, to platoon and to sit the bench. Out in the bullpen you have a lot of time to talk about the game and ask each other 'Why did he do this?' or 'Why didn't he do that?' Ralph Houk was once asked who he thought he had on his club that might make a good manager and he said 'Gary Allenson', so that got me thinking."

The 1991 New Britain Red Sox will work hard this season according to Allenson. "If you come out to the park before a game, you're going to see us working hard out there every day. I don't like to see guys having fun when we're losing. I work as hard as I possibly can, all the time. I expect the players to do the same".

Allenson had no predictions about the team's prospects for this year, other than to say that they would give 100% all the time. "It's tough to say right now who will be on the club or how they will do. I will say this though, we had a kid in Lynchburg last year who should be in New Britain this year named Greg Blosser. I've heard that Beehive is a tough place to hit homeruns but I've seen Blosser hit some balls that no park could hold." That should be good news for fans at Beehive Field this year.

Gary Martin "Muggsy" Allenson

Born: 2-4-55, Culver City, CA Ht: 5-11 Wt: 190 lbs.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Was named International League MVP at Pawtucket in 1978 after a .299 year with 20 homeruns and 76 RBI. Was named Triple A All-Star catcher and was with Boston the final 2 weeks of the season. Helped Arizona State to a berth in the 1975 College World Series, and at Omaha he beat Texas with a homerun and a game-winning single. Had only 4 hit major league game (HR & 3 singles) in 7-2 win vs. Angels on 7-19-83. Twice knocked in 5 runs in a single game.

Rick Wise

RICK WISE JOINS NEW BRITAIN RED SOX AS PITCHING COACH

Rick Wise has been named to replace Rich Gale as the NB Sox pitching coach for the 1991 season. Gale will join manager Butch Hobson in Pawtucket after the pair spent the 1989 and 1990 seasons together in New Britain.

Wise was originally signed by the Philadelphia Phillies in 1963 and had a 188-181 lifetime Major League record in 16-plus seasons with Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland and San Diego. On June 23, 1971 he won a no-hitter and hit 2 homeruns versus Cincinnati to become the only person in Major League history to accomplish this feat. On July 2, 1975 in Milwaukee he had a perfect game for six innings and a no-hitter until ex-Boston Red Sox player George Scott's 2-out 2 run homerun in the ninth. Bobby Darwin followed with another homerun, but Wise got the final out to win a two-hitter, 6-

3. In 1975 he was 19-12 as the Sox were Eastern Division champs, then won Game 3 of the ALCS in Oakland that clinched the A.L. pennant. He also won the memorable Game 6 of the World Series versus Cincinnati when he pitched a scoreless 12th inning.

Rick was a minor league pitching coach for the Houston Astros with their NYP team in Auburn, N.Y. in 1988 and 1989 and their Rookie Gulf Coast League team in Sarasota in 1987. He began coaching with the Oakland A's in 1985-86 at Madison (WI) in the Midwest League. Last summer he pitched and coached for the Riverview Reds in New Brunswick, Canada after spending the winter pitching for the Winter Haven Super Sox in the Senior Professional Association.

Rick is a native of Beaverton, Oregon. He and his wife, Susan, have two children, a daughter Stacey and a son Rich.

A PIPELINE TO THE MAJOR LEAGUES

What do Ricky Henderson, Ryne Sandberg, Willie McGee, Nolan Ryan, Roger Clemens and Doug Drabek have in common besides having outstanding performances in 1990? The correct answer is, they are all Eastern League graduates. They are just a few of the 344 EL alums who played major league baseball in 1990.

Henderson spent the 1978 season with Jersey City (now Williamsport). He hit .310 with no homers and 34 RBI while stealing a league leading 81 bases. Sandberg was a member of the 1980 Reading Phillies. Playing both short and third, Sandberg hit .310 with 11 homers and 79 RBI. In 1979, McGee spent part of the season as a West Haven Yankee (now Albany). McGee hit .243 in 115 at bats that season. Ryan is a 1966 grad. Williamsport was one of three minor league spots for the future Hall of Famer that year. In just three appearances, Ryan was 0-2 with a spectacular 0.95 ERA with 35 strikeouts in 19 innings. Clemens was 4-1 for New Britain in 1983. He had a 1.38 ERA in seven appearances. Drabek spent parts of two seasons in the EL. In 1984, he was 12-5 with a 2.24 ERA for Glens Falls. He was 13-7, 2.99 ERA for Albany in 1985.

New Britain Red Sox Trainer

1991 is Gordy's second season with the New Britain Red Sox. In addition to the training room duties, he also leads the team in the pre-game stretching and calisthenics, and at times acts as an equipment manager and traveling secretary. Gordy is from West Hartford, CT and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Central Connecticut State University. While also concentrating in Athletic Training, Gordy received his NATA certification in 1987. In 1988 he also obtained certification in National Strength and Conditioning.

Following graduation, Gordy worked for the Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine

Associates firm of New Britain. In April 1989 he served as Athletic Trainer, Conditioning Coach and Clubhouse Manager for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox, the Rookie affiliate of the Boston Red Sox in Winter Haven, Florida. From September 1989 to January 1990 he served as Athletic Trainer for the University of Connecticut while also providing student education and program development.

Gordy, who has also been an Athletic Trainer volunteer for the New York City Marathon (1988), Bay State Games of Boston, MA (1987) and Empire State Games of Buffalo, NY (1986), enjoys traveling, jogging, rock climbing, racquetball, judo, strength and conditioning and scuba diving.

1987 saw the team record fall to 61-79 under new manager Dave Holt. The team was in first place late in May but was stricken with injuries and limped to a sixth place finish. The injury situation got so bad that first baseman Jose Birriel took to the mound, posting a 5-2 record with a 1.90 ERA. At the plate Birriel batted .292 with 10 HR's and 57 RBI. 1987 also saw the NebSox debuts of Brady Anderson, Daryl Irvine, Jeff Plympton (cover photo) and Josias Manzanillo.

Last place was the fate of the team in 1988 and '89, falling all the way to 47-90 in '88 before starting the climb back under new manager and former Boston Red Sox third baseman Butch Hobson in '89. Despite a last place finish the 1989 version of the NebSox showed signs of life, bouncing back to 60-76 and getting a huge lift when Seton Hall standout Mo Vaughn joined the club following the June draft. The first round pick from Norwalk belted 8 round trippers in just half a season with New Britain.

1990 was a special season in New Britain. The Red Sox had 2 Nutmeggers on the team; southpaw hurler Kevin Morton from Norwalk and The University of Hartford's Jeff Bagwell from Killingworth. Fans at the 'Hive were treated to a perfect game by Morton on August 25th against Reading and Bagwell won the Eastern League Most Valuable Player award, batting .333 with 61 RBI and a team record 160 hits. These two, along with outstanding performances by Derek Livernois (9-2, 1.98), Dan O'Neill (7-0, 0.60) and Mike Twardoski (.293), carried the Red Sox to their first playoff appearance since 1985. Fans at the 'Hive also had their hearts broken when on August 31, with just three games left in the regular season, Jeff Bagwell was traded to the Houston Astros for reliever Larry Anderson. Despite Bagwell's untimely departure the Sox went out and beat Albany three games to two in the first round of the playoffs. In the Eastern League finals, however, the team from Connecticut ran into a team with a Connecticut star of its own. The London Tigers, led by Watertown's Rico Brogna swept the NebSox in three straight games to bring down the curtain on a fine season.

1991 promises to be a season of change, both on and off the playing field. Gone are many of the promising stars from a year ago. Gone too are Butch Hobson and Rich Gale, having both joined Pawtucket on their way back to the big leagues. The torch has been passed on to Gary Allenson and Rick Wise who promise to bring new hope and excitement to the Beehive faithful. New young stars like Greg Blosser and Scott Taylor take their places on the field and in our hearts as the 1991 New Britain Red Sox take aim at the Eastern League crown. Fans at the 'Hive will also be treated to expanded concession and picnic areas, new Field Level box seats, new opponents in the Mets and Expos and, of course, 70 games of exciting Double A baseball.
